

Introduction :

{automatic rain detection system}

- An Arduino-based automatic rain shield for clothes is an intelligent system designed to detect rain and deploy a protective shield over clothes to prevent them from getting wet. This system uses a rain sensor to detect water droplets and an Arduino-controlled motor mechanism to extend and retract the shield automatically. By integrating sensors, motors, and a control unit, the system ensures real-time protection with minimal manual intervention.